Certain types of commercial vehicles required DOT ID numbers. While we are not able to provide you with comprehensive information on when you do or don't need DOT ID's, we can provide you with links to organizations that can fully answer any questions you may have. The following information was gathered and shared with us by Scot Lee. Thanks for doing the leg work on this, Scot!

Here's the main link for the Colorado State Patrol, Motor Carrier Safety page which is the main information page for commercial vehicle information.
